

Minister Says He Vouched For Man Held Spy

OTTAWA (CP)—Postmaster Bertrand said today in the Commons he had signed in 1936 a letter recommending that one William Brandes be granted Canadian naturalization papers.

(The Montreal Gazette said today that Brandes was a Russian agent who had issued a Canadian passport to get into Britain for "nefarious activities.")

Mr. Bertrand, Liberal member for Montreal-Laurier since 1935, said he had been deceived by the late Aaron Marcovitch who had worked for him in his election campaign and by Brandes himself whose story of being the son of a man naturalized in 1913 seemed "plausible."

"There was nothing but absolute good faith in my behavior," he told the House.

Mr. Bertrand said he had never signed anything but the one letter to the officer in charge of naturalization in Ottawa and denied that the name of Fred Rose, Labor-Progressive member of Parliament sentenced to six years for espionage had been on the same letter.

"I did not know him (Rose) until long after September, 1936," he said.

TRUSTED MARCOVITCH

Mr. Bertrand said he had come to trust Marcovitch through the latter's efforts in his behalf in the 1935 election campaign. Details Mr. Bertrand had furnished the naturalization office "had been furnished to me by Marcovitch and Brandes himself who accompanied his supposed cousin to my office."

These forms showed the number of Brandes' father's naturalization papers obtained in 1913.

"I had no reason to doubt Marcovitch's words as he had always acted properly during the time I had known him."

Marcovitch died Nov. 11, 1944, he said.

(The Montreal Gazette named the agent as William Brandis, alias Steinberg, and said a cabinet member, then a back bench member of Parliament, had signed attestation papers saying he had known him for five years and that he was "a respectable citizen." At that time the paper said Brandis had only been in Canada two weeks and later left for Britain with a Canadian passport.)

Dr. Pijade said his delegation was willing to take the Soviet draft proposal as "a basis for discussion."

S. G. Lukianov, resident commercial attaché for the Soviet government in Vancouver, said today "the problem will probably be solved in a day or two" and that the ship, now moored at the V.M.D. wharf here will sail as soon as the difficulty is settled.

Haifa Turned Into Armed Camp As Jews Deported

Jewish immigrants aboard these ships in Haifa harbor were today sent to Cyprus, where British authorities have rushed barbed wire and building materials to Famagusta in preparation for the concentration of illegal Jewish immigrants to Palestine. Off Haifa, British warships are concentrating. Six corvettes purchased by the Jewish Agency—some of them Canadian-built vessels—were used to transport the immigrants part of the way to Palestine. Seen below, pretty Jewish girls are questioned by a British sergeant in an intensive hunt for arms.

Admiral Wants Public To Know Navy Better

Granting of easier access to the Esquimalt naval base, enabling navy families and the general public to better acquaint themselves with the activities and facilities of the Royal Canadian Navy here is a part of the policy of Rear Admiral E. R. Mainguy, O.B.E., R.C.N., newly-appointed Commanding Officer Pacific coast.

At a press conference today Admiral Mainguy said he believed navy wives and families would be encouraged if they were able to see where their men lived, the way they worked, how they ate, and the other different phases of their life in the navy here.

He wants this to apply to other citizens as well. "After all it is their navy," the admiral observed. He is hoping to make plans for visiting hours, probably Saturdays and Sundays.

Ships in port will probably be open to the public when working hours are over so an opportunity may be given visitors to inspect the vessels.

Admiral Mainguy also feels that by making easier admission to the naval base, navy families will get an opportunity to meet each other and become more closely acquainted in their common interests.

As conditions are now, he pointed out, as soon as naval personnel are free, they make for the gates and spread all over Greater Victoria, thus missing the opportunity to meet each other.

Stream Down Streets

Jewish residents of the half-Jewish, half-Arab city, streamed down hillside streets toward the docks a few minutes after the last refugees were loaded. The British 1st Infantry Division, called into action, quickly threw a cordon around the dock area, but only after nearly 2,000 persons streamed down King's Way, which parallels the quays. Approximately 500 illegal Jewish immigrants who had spent 32 hours aboard a ship anchored in the harbor within sight of their "promised land" were the first to sail this morning.

1,000 Jewish Refugees Deported From Haifa While Mobs Break Curfew, Riot

HAIFA, Palestine (CP)—Britain today deported 1,000 illegal Jewish immigrants to Cyprus aboard two troopships, while mobs of young Jews, aroused by the outlawed Hagana radio, rioted in the troop-filled streets.

The young Jews violated a curfew to demonstrate "against the deportations. However, the rioting abated and the curfew was lifted this afternoon. Police reported the city was quiet at 2 p.m. as British soldiers began withdrawing.

But another 650 illegal Jewish immigrants arrived off the harbor of this half-Jewish, half-Arab port aboard the sloop Fenice.

The rioting Jews stoned troops of the British 1st Infantry Division, guarding the docks, and police.

The Hagana radio called on residents of Haifa to "storm the streets" and break the curfew, which British authorities imposed while the Jews were being loaded aboard ships for deportation.

Even the Arab quarters in Haifa joined in defiance of the curfew. The Arabs, however, caused little disturbance and ventured only outside their own homes.

British officers said a search of the refugees had revealed a few sticks of gelignite (an explosive) on their persons but that no other arms had been found.

BLOCKADE ANNOUNCED

LONDON (CP)—Capping a long series of diplomatic, military and naval measures intended to check the flow of illegal immigrants from Europe to Palestine, Britain Monday night announced a total blockade to bar them in the future, declaring that civil war threatened the Holy Land.

Coupled with the government's announced intention to shift to Cyprus the terminus of "the underground railway to Palestine," was an accusation that a highly-organized, Zionist-financed organization planned and assisted in the movement of refugees, thereby attempting "to force the hand of the British government" in future Palestine policy.

Jewish reaction was prompt and bitter. One Jewish leader predicted the step would cause "much more suffering—but it won't stop the stream of immigrants."

Workers of America (A.F.L.). No injuries were reported, nor was it known that any arrests had been made.

The tear gas fired by the provincial police momentarily forced the crowd back, but shortly afterwards it had congregated once more outside the plant, blocking the street to traffic.

The workers returned to the shelter of the building. This morning, when the returning workers reported at the mill a crowd of about 1,000 persons was congregated about the main gate, but calm prevailed.

Russia Would Share Defence Of Dardanelles

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia announced today she has proposed to Turkey that the Black Sea powers take full authority in drawing up a new treaty governing the Dardanelles and that the U.S.S.R. and Turkey should organize defences of the straits jointly.

The Russian note said the 10-year-old Montreux convention, whereby Turkey was granted the right to militarize the Straits, "does not correspond to the interests of security of the Black Sea states and does not guarantee conditions preventing the use of these straits with aims inimical to the Black Sea powers."

The note was made public by the Soviet Foreign Office. The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said it was presented to the Turkish government in Ankara last Thursday and that its contents were disclosed simultaneously to Britain and the United States.

It asserted that Germans and Italians had used the strategic link between the Black Sea and the Mediterranean illegally for military purposes during the Second Great War and that Turkey "cannot avoid responsibility."

Russia proposed that the straits be kept open to the passage of commercial vessels of all countries, but only to war vessels of the Black Sea powers except in cases where special arrangements had been made in advance.

The Black Sea powers, in addition to Russia and Turkey, are Bulgaria and Romania. The other signatories of the 1936 convention, which is opened to discussion each five years during its 20-year life, are Britain, France, Greece, Yugoslavia and Japan.

10 Occupants Seized, Held Incommunicado

BELGRADE (AP)—United States State Department officials encountered a veil of silence today in their attempts to learn the whereabouts of the occupants of an American C-47 army transport plane who have been held incommunicado by Yugoslav authorities since their ship was forced down near Ljubljana by Yugoslav fighters last Friday.

Harold A. Shantz, Charge D'Affaires in the United States Embassy said that a Yugoslav officer in charge at the scene of the crash landing had refused to tell the American consul at Zagreb, where the occupants of the plane had been interned.

"We have been given no indication as to when they will be released," Mr. Shantz said.

Mystery still surrounded the circumstances under which the plane was grounded. There was no authoritative information today as to whether the transport was forced down by aerial manoeuvring by Yugoslav fighter planes or by actual gunfire.

The consul from Zagreb was refused permission Monday to see the interned passengers or crew members, or view the plane at close range.

Mr. Shantz said that reports that the pilot and co-pilot of the plane were injured "apparently were false alarms." He said that one passenger was injured.

The passengers included six American army personnel, one United States civilian and three other passengers—one a military man and two civilians. The nationality of the latter three is not known.

Yugoslav authorities refused to divulge the names of the internees, but said they were "being given the best of treatment."

Royal City M.P. Warns Of Soviet Encroachment Of Fishing Grounds

By NORMAN MACLEOD
Victoria Times Correspondent

OTTAWA—Concern lest recent aggressive expansion of Soviet commercial fishing activities into the Pacific may menace Canadian fishing interests today threatened to arrest Parliament in its last-minute rush to prorogue.

Thomas Reid, Liberal M.P. for New Westminster and traditionally vigilant over West Coast fishing interests, today told this correspondent that he considered the growing Soviet threat to Canadian fishermen "a serious national situation," and that he intended in spite of the lateness of the session, to demand effective government countermeasures of protection.

MUST CONFORM

Reid said: "Canada must follow the precedent recently set by President Truman and since adopted by the Mexican government of formally announcing her exclusive claim to the fishing rights off both her coasts as far off-shore as the continental shields extends."

The "continental shield" is a rocky ledge which attaches to both coasts and extends from 25 to 60 miles out into the ocean. The great bulk of commercial fishing is conducted over it.

Reid said that Russia since the late war has been taking over and operating the fishing areas in the Pacific formerly exploited by the Japanese. Recent separation of the Soviet Fisheries Ministry into two portfolios—one for the Baltic fisheries and the other for the Pacific fisheries—has been followed, Reid contends, by noteworthy expansion and aggressiveness of the Soviet Pacific fishing fleet.

While hitherto Japanese and Russian operations have been confined well within the Kamchatka area north of Japan, Reid warns that they now are threatening to extend into United States waters off Alaska and to Canadian waters off the British Columbia coast.

The New Westminster M.P. credits President Truman's recent formal announcement of the exclusive rights of the United States to all fishing privileges over the continental ledge to fears of this Russian aggressiveness. He is insistent that Canada should act similarly to protect her parallel interests before it is too late.

"Department of External Affairs policy in the matter of protecting Canada's international fishing interests has been entirely too 'wishy-washy' in the past. This definitely must change," Mr. Reid today told the correspondent.

H. G. Wells Dies In 80th Year

Famed Author Dies

LONDON (Reuters)—H. G. Wells, 79, famed British author of scientific romances and political writings, died today.

Mr. Wells' secretary told a reporter that the author had died peacefully at 4 p.m. He had been in failing health for a "considerable time."

Mr. Wells' fame grew with his popularized versions of science and history—both of which he boosted into the "best-seller" class. Along with 90-year-old George Bernard Shaw and the late Rudyard Kipling, he was hailed on both sides of the Atlantic as a member of the "Big Three" of modern English literature.

Mr. Wells had 50 publications to his credit, ranging the fields of sociology, political economy and romance. His "Outline of History," a landmark in best sellers in Britain and abroad, was translated into almost every living language and in one year sold more than 500,000 copies in the United States alone. For a while it was one of the few publications ever to outsell the Bible.

Of his novels, "Mr. Britling Sees It Through" was a First Great War success. In the field of scientific romance Mr. Wells was unsurpassed. His "Invisible Man" was filmed in Hollywood some years ago at the height of a cycle of horror pictures, and a radio dramatization of his "War of the Worlds" aroused terror in large sections of the United States.

Of his later works, "The Shape of Things to Come," and "The Fate of Homo Sapiens" speculated on the future.

Molotov Opposes Delay Asked By Italy In Final Settlement Of Peace Treaty

By WILLIAM B. KING
PARIS (AP)—Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia today told Paris peace conference "Fascist Italy bears a tremendous responsibility" but that "does not mean that Italy should lose her importance as a power in the Mediterranean."

Speaking in response to pleas for leniency expressed Saturday by Premier Alcide de Gasperi of Italy, Mr. Molotov paid tribute to the "historic services rendered by Italy."

He added, however, that Mr. de Gasperi's address was an "attempt to evade the fundamental problems of Italy's democratic resurgence."

The Russian Foreign Minister said Mr. de Gasperi's suggestion for a year's delay in completing the peace terms, especially with relation to the future of Trieste, "can meet with no support from this conference."

He also bespoke opposition to the suggestion that final settlement for Italy await the German peace terms, declaring: "Peace with Germany can have no bearing whatever on Trieste."

Mr. Molotov recalled that it was only after the Russian victory at Stalingrad and the Allied victories in North Africa and southern Italy that Italy got out of the war and "began to reorganize on a democratic basis."

MUST ROOT OUT FASCISM

"It was not easy for the new Italy to stand firm after the downfall of Fascism. Italy can not become a democratic country unless she roots out the last vestiges of Fascism."

He expressed the hope that "every nation will help in creation of a new democratic Italy."

Mr. Molotov paid tribute to Yugoslavia, which he said "occupied a glorious place beside the allies who defeated the Axis."

He said Yugoslavia's claims to Istria "are more valid than those of Italy."

"Italy's claims have nothing in common with international justice."

The head Ethiopian delegate, Ato Akilou Habte Wold, following Mr. Molotov in the Italian debate, answered the applause which greeted him with the remark: "At this touching moment I can not help remembering an other scene in which Italian Fascists hissed the monarch before the League of Nations."

(He referred to the occasion when Emperor Haile Selassie made a personal appeal before the League at Geneva against the Italian invasion of Ethiopia in 1935.)

In his five-minute address the Ethiopian delegate recalled that "Italy used Eritrea and Somaliland as bases for her attack against Ethiopia."

He said allied troops during the war told natives of those countries that "these territories will never go back under Italy."

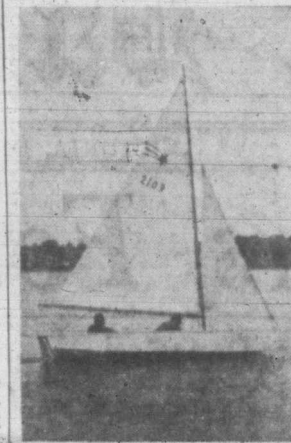

To return them to Italy would be "an act of international immorality," he said.

Canada's Labor Force Increased By 290,000 In Last 6 Months

OTTAWA (CP)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics today estimated Canada's civilian labor force—persons 14 years or over—at 4,828,000 on June 1, an increase of 290,000 compared with Nov. 17, 1945.

Corresponding to this increase in potential manpower was an increase of 336,000 in those actually working and a reduction of 46,000 in the number of unemployed.

The figures were based on a sampling survey, the third the bureau has conducted in this field at three-month intervals. Representatives of 25,000 households in 100 different areas scattered across Canada were interviewed to provide material for the estimates.

The total civilian labor force at June 1 was estimated to comprise 3,732,000 men and 1,096,000 women. By regions it was divided: Maritimes, 435,000; Quebec, 1,333,000; Ontario, 1,651,000; Prairies, 1,022,000, and British Columbia, 387,000.

The number actually employed at June 1 was estimated at 4,702,000, as against 4,312,000 at Feb. 23, 1946, and 4,366,000 at Nov. 17, 1945.

The bureau estimated there were 1,274,000 workers in agriculture at June 1, compared with 1,083,000 in February and 1,056,000 in November. The June figures included 1,074,000 men and 200,000 women. They were made up of 157,000 paid workers; 639,000 working on their own farms without paid employees; 66,000 employers with their own farm and 421,000 unpaid family workers.

In industries other than agriculture the June total was put at 3,428,000, an increase of 118,000 from November.

The bureau also enquired into the marital status of women holding jobs. It was found that of the 1,078,000 women working at June 1, 677,000 were single, 312,000 were married and 89,000 were widowed, divorced or permanently separated.

Of the 126,000 persons unemployed at June 1, 108,000 were men and 18,000 were women.

The bureau also made an estimate of the distribution of non-workers which were not included in the labor force figures. It found that of 3,890,000 non-workers 283,000 were permanently unable or too old to work; 2,712,000 were keeping house; 579,000 were attending school and 292,000 had retired or were voluntarily idle.

How to conserve bread

The Canadian Food Information Committee has asked Canadians to co-operate during the present food emergency to conserve bread so that starving people in other lands may be fed. We offer in the following suggestions ways to save precious bread.

WHEN YOU BUY BREAD—buy just the right quantity that fits your family's needs. Do not plan to have bread left over from one shopping trip to the next. If you must buy bread for several days' use, get the greatest proportion of it wrapped. A wrapped loaf will keep fresh longer and there won't be any tag ends that are too dry to use.

TO KEEP YOUR BREAD FRESH—When using wrapped bread, open at one end of the loaf only, remove the heel, take out only the amount of bread needed, replace the heel and fold over wax paper.

TO FRESHEN DRY BREAD—If your bread becomes slightly dry, sprinkle the wrapper around the bread with water or put the bread in a paper sack and sprinkle. Place in a moderate oven (350° F.) for about ten minutes or until bread is heated through. Serve immediately for homemade bread flavour.

WHEN YOU HAVE LEFT-OVER BREAD—Don't throw it away. Use it in the following way to augment your regular bread supply.

MELBA TOAST—Use left-over sliced bread. Place on a baking sheet in a single layer and dry out in a slow oven (250° F.) about one and one-half hours or until a tempting, tawny brown. Store in an airtight container and use as needed. Use in place of bread for breakfast, lunch, dinner, or as a snack. Note: Slice left-over hard rolls and use in the same way.

Penticton Folk Move Own Garbage

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—Many Penticton citizens today engaged private trucks to remove from the rear of their homes the garbage which had accumulated since last Tuesday when municipal employees struck.

Harry Black, sanitary inspector, said the garbage was a menace to public health and that the situation was "pretty grim." The strike was called when Penticton City Council refused to accept a conciliation board finding recommending maintenance of union membership and check-off of dues.

It is understood that the Penticton Ratepayers' Association may call a meeting where civic officials and union leaders can air their views of the situation.

Dispute Delays Soviet Ship Here

VANCOUVER (CP)—Official sources here Monday evening announced that the Russian ship Felix Derjinsky, centre of speculation since it failed to sail from Victoria as planned, following a reconversion job, is expected to leave there shortly.

S. G. Lukianov, commercial attaché to the Russian Consulate, said there was a small difference between the ship's owners and the Victoria Machinery Depot which completed the $300,000 conversion.

"The problem will be solved within the next couple of days," Mr. Lukianov said.

Timber Wolves Raid Sheep At Cowichan

DUNCAN (Special)—Timber wolves are attacking sheep in the Cowichan district and inflicting heavy losses on farmers, it was reported here today.

Reeve D. D. Chapman said he believed that the wolves had been attracted to the district by the large number of deer roaming on the Cowichan hills. Deer were just as troublesome as the wolves because they feed on the crops of farmers, Mr. Chapman said.

A Wood, a member of the Cowichan Fish and Game Association, also reported that he had seen wolves and plenty of deer in the district. He predicted a good hunting season.

Protest Expected Of Jap Whaling

TOKYO (AP)—Russia, several countries of the British Commonwealth and the United States whaling industry are expected shortly to protest vigorously Gen. MacArthur's temporary extension of Japanese whaling into the Antarctic.

One diplomatic source said complaints may already have reached the American State Department, and a high American official confirmed probable protests with this comment: "We expected trouble."

Contentious Issue Of Taxation Of Co-Operatives Before House

OTTAWA (CP)—A day-long debate on the proposed taxation of co-operatives, and income tax generally, was likely today as the Commons turned to study the main bill to implement budget tax changes.

Monday, the House dealt in short order with five not-so-contentious budget measures relating to the Succession Duties Act, the Excess Profits Tax Act, the Special War Revenue Act, the Excise Act and the Customs Tariff Act. Consideration of the main bill was postponed until today.

At the night sitting, the chamber completed study of public works and Royal Canadian Mounted Police estimates and opened discussion on estimates of the Transport Department.

Works Minister Fournier said plans for construction of a fisherman's float in Victoria were received today and tenders would be called this week. He was replying to Robert Mayhew, Lib., Victoria.

Shortly before the House rose, Justice Minister St. Laurent announced that because government business has precedence on the order paper the House would be unable to deal at this session with a private member's bill aimed at changing the name of "Dominion Day" to "Canada's National Holiday."

The bill, sponsored by Phileas Cote, Lib., Matane, Que., and changing the name of the holiday to "Canada Day," passed the Commons early in the session and went to the Senate where the name was changed to "The National Holiday of Canada." The Senate amendment had been reported back to the Commons for approval.

The amendments to the bill could only be discussed with the unanimous consent of the House. As there was considerable dif-

Strike Not Expected In Mine Talks Here

NANAIMO (CP)—Percy Lawson, secretary of the United Mineworkers of America (C.C.L.) Local 7355, said Monday night strike action to back up new and undisclosed wage demands by western Canadian coal miners is "not anticipated."

Earlier reports from Calgary, where the union's western Canadian District 18 held a six-day special wage convention last week said strike action was "almost certain" if the demands were not met.

Mr. Lawson, who has just returned from the convention, said negotiations with Alberta operators will open in Calgary Thursday and locals at Nanaimo and Cumberland will await conclusion of these talks before opening negotiations with Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd., which employs 1,200 miners on Vancouver Island.

Mr. Lawson declined to divulge the conclusions reached at the Calgary conference as to actual demands formulated.

690 More Mounties

OTTAWA (CP)—Strength of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, now 2,464, will be increased by 690 as proper material becomes available, Justice Minister St. Laurent said Monday night in the Commons. Less than 200 of the new men needed had so far been engaged.

Replying to questions as to whether the increase in the force was aimed to meet counter-espionage needs, Mr. St. Laurent said the whole force was available for any work required of it.

He was replying to Lt.-Col. Cecil Merritt, V.C., P.C., Vancouver-Burrard, who asked what was being done about the establishment of a free port on the Pacific coast.

H. G. Archibald, C.C.F., Skeena, urged the Canada Shipping Act be amended and brought into line with the navigation laws of the United States.

Mr. Archibald read from the Canadian and American legislation and compared the provisions, with respect to wages, working hours and conditions of service. The United States Act, he said, provided for an eight-hour day. There was no similar provision in the Canadian Act.

SHOULD HAVE WAITED

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S FEDERATION of Labor has demanded the resignation of both Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, federal Minister of Labor, and Mr. Donald Gordon, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. This branch of the Canadian Congress of Labor, which is associated with the Congress of Industrial Organizations—C.I.O. for short—also decided to seek the support of the American Federation of Labor in order to add the voice of the more moderate elements of the province's organized working force which, of course, enjoys a much greater union influence.

The burden of the Federation's newest complaint rests on what the convention delegates assumed was an arbitrary edict from Ottawa limiting pay increases to 10 cents an hour—which this branch of the C.C.L. proposes to protest throughout British Columbia with all the vigor it can infuse into its campaign, regardless, it is assumed, of whether the unions of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada (A.F. of L.) are in the mood to assist or not. But in their haste to give the somewhat sour labor-management brew another hefty stir the provincial C.I.O. affiliates evidently did not think it desirable to wait until some clarification of the matter could be obtained—a development which provincial Labor Minister Pearson anticipated in a wire he sent to the convention.

In other words, Mr. Mitchell advised the House of Commons yesterday afternoon that he had given no instructions to the British Columbia Regional War Labor Board to limit wage increases to 10 cents an hour. All this confab arose, of course, because W.P.T.B. chief Gordon advised the House of Commons Industrial Relations Committee that he could not be responsible for maintaining the wage and price structure—or words to that effect—if future pay increases exceeded 10 cents an hour.

Thousands of intelligent union members throughout Canada are today thanking their lucky stars that the inflationary trend has not become wild—that this country's early action to prevent a repetition of the economic chaos which followed the ending of the First Great War has succeeded so far. Instead of calling for the resignation of the officials of the public service who have "held the line" in the interests of Canadians as a whole, it is quite probable that many C.I.O. members would mark a secret ballot—if they had the chance—for the removal of some of their own leaders whose actions are often suspect.

NO PITY NEEDED

WHEN MR. WALTER TUCKER, PARLIAMENTARY assistant to Veterans' Minister Mackenzie, returned to the House of Commons the other day after his election to the leadership of the Liberal Party of Saskatchewan, Mr. Howard Green, Progressive Conservative member for Vancouver South, said he believed Mr. Tucker was to be "congratulated and pitied" for the new task he was undertaking.

Congratulations, of course, were in order. But what would Mr. Green have said to a federal Conservative member who had left the Dominion field for the provincial realm of Saskatchewan? That would have been a case for pity with a vengeance. But perhaps the representative for Vancouver South is not especially interested in the Conservative record in that part of Canada—with only one administration under its political banner since the establishment of the province in 1905. To be sure, Conservatives have occasionally formed part of the opposition; but not in recent years. Mr. Tucker, at least, can count upon five Liberals in the present Legislature.

While there is little point, under our electoral system, in comparing the size of the popular vote with numerical parliamentary representation, it is worth while noting that despite the C.C.F. sweep in Saskatchewan two years ago, no fewer than 139,163 ballots were marked for Liberal candidates. This gave the party but a quintette of legislators—44,197 votes giving the Conservatives none—but 211,308 elected 45 followers of the C.C.F.

Mr. Tucker obviously feels in no need of Mr. Green's pity, especially as he recalls the Liberal record in the central prairie province and consults the tabulated vote distribution in the election of 1944. The member for Vancouver South would be better advised to keep his lugubrious felicitations for his own party's leader in Saskatchewan.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY

RUSSIA'S DEMAND FOR A REVISION of the Montreux Convention of 1936 revives the old question of the Dardanelles—which, by the Treaty of Lausanne in 1923, were demilitarized and stripped of their fortifications. The present arrangement guarantees complete liberty of passage for merchant ships at all times provided Turkey is not a belligerent. If she thinks herself threatened by war, she can restrict the movement of merchant ships. Rumania, Bulgaria and Russia may send warships through the straits if they pass singly and with a minimum escort of two destroyers.

If Turkey considers herself menaced by war, however, she may exercise her discretion about the passage of all warships. Thus a revision of the convention can become a long step forward or backward in international relationships.

Revision to "internationalize" not only the Dardanelles but all similar waterways by placing them under the protection of the United Nations as trustees—with the proviso that their navigation is regarded as part of sanctions to be exercised in the maintenance of world law and order against aggressors—might well provide the foundation stone for peace and understanding between the East and West. Most people agree that the prime cause of present misunderstandings between the U.S.S.R. and the West is mutual suspicion of each other's motives. Other than the dialectics and fanaticism of the ideologists, we believe that much of this mistrust is historical and rooted in traditions and conditions which no longer exist, either from the strategic, geographic or economic point of view.

CONGRATULATIONS

FIFTY YEARS AGO THE SEATTLE Times was taken over by Col. Alden J. Biethen, founded in 1881 as The Seattle Chronicle. In order to mark the celebration of its golden jubilee the Times has published a record of its growth from a daily circulation of 4,000 to 176,000, and for Sundays from 31,500 in 1902 to 226,000.

The intimate association of a newspaper with the community upon which it depends for its circulation, and which in turn depends on its newspapers for a record of its activities and their relation with the world outside their special orbit, predestines the growth of both. The Times is typical of Seattle—its spirit and its physical and material environment. The magazine section, devoted to the record of its growth as a newspaper, embodies the changes that have taken place in production methods.

We extend our heartiest congratulations to our Sound City contemporary on attaining its golden jubilee. Both Seattle and its Times can be conscious of a job well done.

HAPPY GATHERING

ALTHOUGH WAR HAD CAST ITS BALE-ful shadow across six of the two dozen annual tournaments of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association since its inception, each successive gathering has furnished ample justification for the vision and initiative upon which the founders of the organization based their hopes. There has never been any question as to whether the entry list would be sufficient to warrant the meticulous preparations which precede every meet; the executive committee has found it difficult on numerous occasions to accommodate all those eligible to participate in the battles of the fairways and greens. And as more of the devotees of the royal and ancient pastime reach the age which permits them to apply for membership in this charmed circle, so does the waiting list continue to exceed the number who through various reasons have to leave the roster.

It is a happy circumstance that Mr. G. H. Barnard who, as Senator Barnard, was largely instrumental in promoting the S.N.G.A. back in 1923, now finds himself free from the cares of state to mingle with many of those from far and near who took part in the inaugural tournament, and others who have qualified since. To be sure, he is not as young as he used to be, but were it not for the fact that his eyesight is somewhat below par he would still be among the participants. In the assemblage which took off in the qualifying round yesterday, however, there were several who have passed the Psalmist's allotted span and whose prowess often matches that of many of the younger element. Which reminds us that students of "form" were not far out in their calculations when they predicted a year or so ago, that further experience with the tantalizing contours of the picturesque links at Oak Bay would add to the threat of Tacoma's E. N. Eisenhower. This genial brother of the famous General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower turned the trick yesterday by heading the field with an excellent 73. His progress in match play, therefore, will be watched with interest. Victorians hope the weather remains on its good behaviour and that all participants will have a pleasant time.

NO LONGER AN ENIGMA

THE LONG DEBATE OF THE 21 NA-tions assembled in Paris over "procedure" ended in convincing the majority that Russian policy was no longer an enigma but merely a paradox. Mr. Molotov himself provided the proof when he thanked Australia's Dr. Evatt for his frankness in admitting that there were people in the conference who differed from the Russian point of view. The Soviet delegate inferred that these people were convicted by such frankness of hostility towards the U.S.S.R., or, in other words, that though they did not agree with him they must accept his policies.

Dr. Evatt's contention was that the right of making peace should belong to all those nations who have been partners in achieving the common victory. He accepts the formula that "peace is indivisible" and, in the final analysis, as the United Nations under the charter have to contribute pro rata to peace, the smaller nations have an obligation as well as a right in respect of the business of peace making.

Mr. Molotov's contention suggests that the U.S.S.R. policies must be accepted because Russia will not defer to any organization it cannot control. He wants to make use of public opinion only as long as he agrees with it.

The mystery about the old-fashioned big family is how the father survived the strain of a dozen births.

Ottawa's Habits

By J. H. GRAY

IF THE GOOD burghers of this town—those superior beings who advertise themselves in the local papers as "permanent residents"—would take a helpful hint or two from a western refugee we are prepared to oblige.

The town has many attractions. It is a lovely spot, scenically. It is Canada's capital. Here, you can see Mounties in the flesh in their scarlet jackets.

But nothing is ever said in print about the delightfully quaint customs of the town. They are customs which have their roots deep in the traditional reserve of the easterner. They do things by indirection.

THERE IS THE problem of the whistling milkman. In Winnipeg, it is a particular problem on Sunday morning if you were out on the town the night before and want to sleep. The people of Winnipeg may get mad about it but seldom do anything constructive. Down here, as a concession to householders with hangers, they tackled the problem realistically. They simply don't deliver milk on Sundays.

True, this creates a problem for parents with small children. You gather, from listening to aged statesmen, that going without milk serves them right for having been responsible for getting the country into children's allowances. With ice, and some luck, Saturday's milk can be stretched until Monday morning.

ICE IS ANOTHER example of the quaint Ottawa habits. As knows any housewife, whose husband is on the lazy side, getting a 30-pound block of ice inside and into a refrigerator is not easy. In Ottawa the ice is always left in the sun. By the time you get up it has melted down to a size that can be handled easily. On some days it hasn't much on a king-sized ice cube.

If you should happen to take a bath before coming down for the ice it will be gone. In our district the pressure is sufficient to get water up to the second floor—in one tap.

If the hot is turned on it will run only so long as the cold is kept off. Running them both together to fill a tub is impossible. This is just an indirect way of saving water. No one has the patience to wait the hour required to get a foot of water in the tub.

A FEW WEEKS AGO the papers were plugging away to have the streets equipped with identification signs. The campaign came to nothing for the "permanent residents" knew which street was which and newcomers or tourists did not matter.

Another quaint touch is the permanent blackout. Around the Chateau there are street lights. But get off the main streets and there is total blackness.

A recent visitor from Winnipeg left the Chateau one night to take a stroll before retiring. Before long he was so hopelessly lost in the blackout that he decided to sit down and wait for the dawn. Fortunately a police patrol's strong headlights gave him his bearings and he beat his way back to the hotel.

IF THE CITY is looking for something novel with which to attract tourists we cannot understand why it has done nothing to publicize its delightfully quaint habits. People pay good money to play the "maze" game at circuses.

Here it can be played any night in the city streets, and for nothing.

A Jew's Debt

"I WANT TO REMIND the House that in 1940 the Jews of the world faced the greatest menace that has ever threatened them in their tragic history, and that is saying a great deal," said Mr. Lipson, a Jew M.P. during the recent debate on Palestine in the British House of Commons. He continued:

"Jews everywhere were in real danger of sharing the fate of the Jews of Germany and of Poland, and one country alone, supported by her sister Dominions and her Colonies, stood in the way of this danger to Jewish survival—Great Britain."

"AT A TIME when this country is being vilified in Palestine, in America and in this country by certain people, it is only right that I, speaking as a Jew, should remember this fact. I do not believe that you can regard the question of Palestine in isolation. Nor do I think the Jews should forget what they owe to Great Britain."

"I support the action which has been taken against the Jewish Agency, because I believe that His Majesty's government could not do differently from what they have done. After all, the first duty of a government, surely, is to govern; and they must stand in Palestine, as they do here and elsewhere, for law and order. It was for the rule of law that this country took part in the war."

"NOT ONLY IS IT RIGHT that this country should stand for law and order, but it is in the interest of the Jew, more than in that of anybody else, that law and order should prevail, because it is only where law and order prevail that the Jew can possibly hope to survive."

"I have faith in the justice, in the tolerance, and in the sense of fair play, not only of this government towards the Jew, but of any British government, and I welcome the opportunity to say that I support the action which His Majesty's government have taken."

America is far enough away to be considered neutral. We look to America to help us restore the policy of political freedom and self-determination.—President Karl Renner of Austria

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

Peace—poor lady—is having a tough time trying to do her lofty balancing act because so many folk are joggling the tight-rope.

There have been numerous instances in recent months of joggling the rope. The latest about a joggle from a new source has been occasioned by a British spokesman's statement that Britain stands ready to take unilateral action, without recourse to the United Nations, to quell any "violent or sudden" threat to her interests in oil-rich Iran (Persia). This is doubly startling because Britain is a staunch champion of peace and moreover a member of the Big Three upon whom the tranquility of the globe depends.

Here's what has happened: Britain, Russia and the United States all have heavy interests in Iran. During the war the three powers had troops in Iran. Last December, during the Big Three conference Britain, the United States and Russia agreed to withdraw their troops and urged Russia to do likewise. The Moscovites refused, on the ground that they had a treaty permitting them, to retain troops there.

British and American soldiers were pulled out. Then came the Iranian Government's protest to the U.N. Security Council against the presence of Red forces. After many heart-burnings Russia announced withdrawal, and since then there seems to have been what diplomats might refer to euphemistically as a rapprochement between Moscow and Teheran. Russia has been granted large oil concessions in northern Iran, stronghold of the Soviet favored Tudeh Party which has been given three posts in the Iranian government.

Meantime in the southern

Iranian oil fields; where Britain's interests lie, there have been bloody disorders involving the Tudeh Party. Britain has moved Indian troops to Basra, in Iraq, on Iran's front doorstep. Britain termed these troops replacements, but the Indian Government stated they were "in order to safeguard Indian and British interests" and protect lives in southern Iran. The Teheran government has protested the movement of these troops to Basra and has requested their removal.

British circles, at the Security Council in New York take the attitude that an attack on British nationals and property in Iran would be an attack on Britain itself and hence military action could be taken in self defence under the United Nations charter.

In any event, if Britain invades Iran militarily for any reason whatsoever, she certainly is likely to uncork a lot of trouble. Surely the mournful ghost of the old League of Nations, which died a tragic failure, is haunting our new United Nations organization.

We're Proud of Our New Kitchen

... and with Good Reason

When Spencer's Dining-room and Tea Lounge were closed for decoration and enlargement, care was taken to retain the restful comfort of the surroundings, the old world charm that has delighted patrons from near and far. But when it came to the kitchen we made a clean sweep.

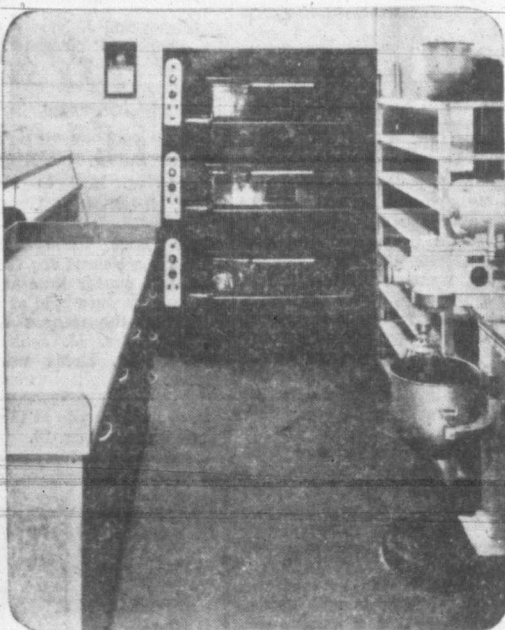

This new kitchen challenges comparison with any on the coast. Not one single item of old equipment was retained. Careful study was given, not only to what was newest and best—but as to how and where the equipment required could best be fitted into the available space. Many pieces indeed were "hand tailored" to meet our special requirements and as a result maximum efficiency has been obtained, with the greatest possible convenience to the staff.

Gleaming monel metal and stainless steel have been used wherever possible because of the ease with which it can be kept spotlessly clean.

Handling has been reduced to a minimum—the new dishwashing installation, for instance, is completely automatic—dishes, glassware and cutlery each go into the separate units and are cleaned, washed, the water drained, sterilized and dried with no more human effort than the turning of a switch.

Other time and labor savers are the new "walk-in" cooler and the refrigerated salad table with everything required right at hand and kept properly chilled at all times. A newly developed roll warmer keeps both soft and crusty rolls just right, always.

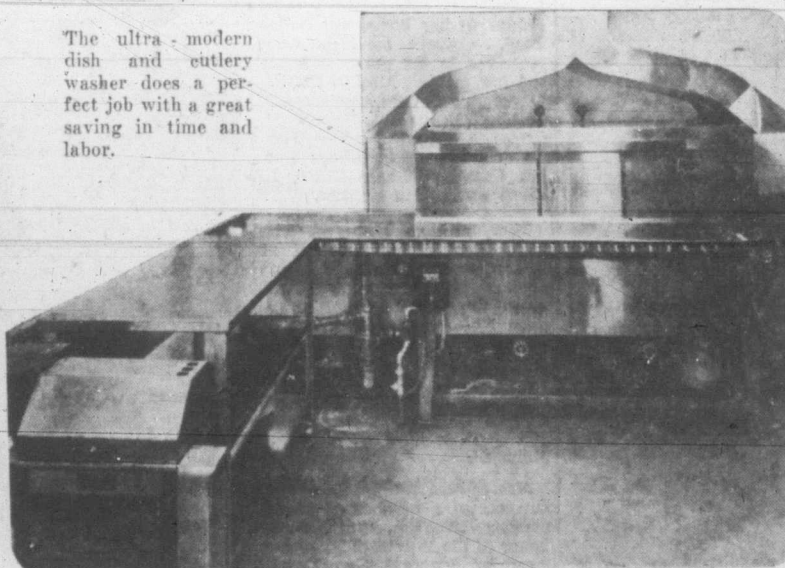

All these and many other improvements have been made to the end that patrons may be sure of the full enjoyment of our chef's skilful preparation of the finest foods obtainable.

The Bakery where all pies, pastries and cakes served in the Dining-room and Tea Lounge are prepared.

Appetising salads are quickly and easily prepared at this Refrigerated Salad Table.

The ultra-modern dish and cutlery washer does a perfect job with a great saving in time and labor.

Star Of Musicals Here On Holiday

Presenting music and drama "the way Americans like it" in such hit shows as "Porgy and Bess," "Oklahoma" and "Carousel" has proved so successful that mid-December in New York will see the start of rehearsals for "Barber of Seville."

John Raitt, who played the leading role in "Oklahoma" during its ten months run in Chicago and also had the lead role in the currently popular "Carousel," is now holidaying in Victoria with Mrs. Raitt, following a V.J. Day performance of the latter show in Seattle. Mr. Raitt will play Figaro in the American version of "Barber of Seville," to be directed by Rouben Mamoulian, to whose skill the actor-singer attributes the success of the former musical shows on the same order.

"Barber of Seville" will be streamlined to suit American tastes, still maintaining the original dramatic portents.

Mr. and Mrs. Raitt have just come from a vacation in Hollywood where they watched the screening of the musical version of "Ah, Wilderness," also under the direction of Mamoulian with Frank Morgan starring.

Two days of rest and golfing at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel will be followed by a few days visit in Vancouver before Mr. and Mrs. Raitt return to New York and fall performances of "Carousel."

Heads Association Of Nursery Schools

Mrs. A. G. H. Tisdall was elected president of the Nursery School Association of Victoria at an executive committee meeting.

Other officers for the coming year include Mrs. Claire McAlister, vice-president; Mrs. J. J. Melke, recording secretary; Mrs. B. W. Fairweather, treasurer; Miss V. E. Ashdown, organizing secretary; Mrs. G. Worthington Lake, convener of membership committee; Mrs. A. J. Tullis, publicity convener.

Growing interest in nursery schools is clearly indicated by the enquiries with regard to the bursary offered by this association, which have come in from students at the Victoria Summer School, and at the summer sessions at U.B.C.

Birthday Marks Close Of Honorable Service

OTTAWA (CP)—When Maj. Mara Ada Morrison of Montreal and Pte. Beatrice O. Charles of Halifax land at Halifax Aug. 15 there will be no more members of the five-year-old Canadian Women's Army Corps serving overseas.

The corps, which celebrates its birthday today, at one time had more than 2,000 girls overseas and a total enlistment of 21,614. Now there are only about 1,500 left in the service and this remnant is due for demobilization by the end of September.

The girls donned khaki during the war to release the equivalent of a full division.

C.W.A.C. enlistment included girls of 10 nationalities including Chinese, Russian, Negroes and Canadian-born of German extraction. The Toronto area provided the greatest number with Vancouver and Winnipeg in second and third place.

Other recruits came from the far Canadian north to enlistment centres. Enlistment was for the duration of hostilities and one year thereafter.

Members of the corps overseas received 62 awards for exceptional service and 16 others were mentioned in dispatches. At home two C.W.A.C. old ranks received commendations for bravery during an accidental fire.

Monday's Bride Wears White Satin

A double-ring ceremony performed Monday evening at 8:30 in the Victoria Truth Centre by Rev. Emma M. Smiley united in marriage Norma Irene, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Matthews, 2536 Prior Street, and Harvey Paul McKelson, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. P. McKelson, 1129 Munro Street. Mrs. C. C. Warr played the wedding music and Miss Marjorie Boorman was the soloist.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a gown of heavy white satin, the low-waisted bodice featuring a sweetheart neckline trimmed with real lace and lily-point sleeves. An embroidered veil cascaded to the hem of the full skirt from a circle of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of deep pink roses, stephanotis and heather centred with a gardenia. A pearl necklace, the gift of the groom, was her only ornament.

Miss Margaret Nason was maid of honor wearing a gown of wine-striped taffeta on a rose background, while the bridesmaid, Miss Gertrude Lane, chose a similarly styled gown in pale primrose. Both had circlets of flowers in their hair and carried colonial bouquets. Cecil Mickelson was best man for his brother and ushers were Elmer Matthews and Samuel Saunders.

Over 100 guests were welcomed to the reception by mothers of the couple. For a honeymoon to be spent at Shawigan and "The Alders" at Qualicum, the bride wore a gold wool suit with brown accessories. Mr. and Mrs. McKelson will reside in Vancouver.

For Added Taste—Nothing adds more zest to the salad materials you bring from your garden than a good French dressing. Here is one of the best: Mix ½ cup of salad oil, 3 tablespoons of malt vinegar, 1 teaspoon of dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon of pepper and a dash of cayenne pepper, in a jar which can be tightly sealed. Then, and here is the secret, add half a can of undiluted cream of tomato soup. No cooking—you just shake, chill and serve.

Quick Trick—Make cold slaw in a big wooden bowl, serve it in same. Over the slaw scatter ½ cup each crumbled cream cheese and finely shredded sweet pickles.

For Sunday Roast—Add two or three crushed gingersnaps, a dash of vinegar and a dozen sultana raisins to pot roast brown gravy.

For the Young Fry—Orange sections around a spoonful of sultanas on a lettuce-lined plate.

Summer Dessert—Drizzle honey or syrup over trimmed seedless grapes, chill and mix sliced peaches. Serve on wedges of cake with or without lemon sauce.

Ever Try Squeezing an

Onion?—Cut in half, skin and all, and squeeze on lemon reamer. Use juice to flavor meat dishes and such.

For Salad Suppers—Split hard rolls, toast a golden brown and then spread with thin skiff of butter with trace of onion juice or chopped chives added.

For a Summer Party—Cream cheese improved with chopped cucumbers, radish slices, chives or onion juice, served with potato chips or with small squares of brown bread. Cherry tomatoes on toothpicks with a bowl of dressing to dunk them in. Grated carrot made into small balls with cream cheese and high seasonings, served on round crackers.

Hughes Leaves Hospital

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Howard Hughes, multi-millionaire manufacturer and movie producer, has left Good Samaritan Hospital attendants said Monday, more than a month after his critical injury in the crash of an experimental plane he had built for the army. Hospital attendants said he went home Saturday. Dr. Verne Mason, his physician, said he was "improving."

Paris Parades Fall Styles

Fall styles paraded before the gallery of the French elite recently at the fashionable Auteuil racecourse showed a trend toward fuller skirts, billowing sleeves and gala stripes.

Example of the ampler silhouette, indicating increase in supplies of material, is the purple nylon dress with a bare midriff, shown left, featuring a full gathered skirt and accordion sleeves.

Evidence of ample fullness is shown again in the purple and white striped dinner dress, shown right. The skirt is pleated, and an unusual bodice effect of mixed stripes is accented by a wide sash which winds up in back in a bustle bow.

MARITAL VACATIONS

Isn't it strange that we haven't enough gumption to give our families the absent treatment when we can see that our husbands are coming down with the grouches, and our wives are fed up to the teeth with domesticity, and the children are breaking out in a rash of quarrels and, as the Prayer Book says, there is no health in us?

It is an affliction that befalls practically every home. In some cases it is a chronic complaint. In others it is a sporadic attack. But at times everyone suffers from it and no one seems to know what to do about it, or, if they do, they haven't the nerve to try the cure. Which is to separate for a while. To get away from the people and conditions that have gotten upon our nerves. To get far enough away from those with whom we live to get a new perspective on them so that we can perceive their virtues instead of having our attention focussed continually on their faults. And above all, to get something new to think about.

STATIC EXISTENCE

Of course, the time-honored theory of domestic life is that it must be static. Husbands and wives must never be parted. They must tag each other wherever they go. Mothers must never leave their children even for a day. Children must never go anywhere without mother holding them by the hand. Old people must go and live with their children, no matter how antagonistic they are, nor how they fight like the Kilkenny cats when they live together.

In nine-tenths of the unhappy homes the trouble is an overdose of domesticity, and the indicated remedy is to lay off of it for a while. All that many a husband needs to make him see his wife again as a glamorous girl and to brag about what a wonder little Jimmie is, is for him to go off on a hunting or fishing trip with other men.

And every wife and mother knows that for her to leave the children with grandma and go off by herself for a vacation is equivalent to having the house refurbished, and her husband transfigured into a movie hero, and the children changed from brats into angels.

DEPENDENT ON EACH OTHER

And that is just the natural working out of cause and effect for married people do not realize how dependent they are on each other until they are left alone. Then the wife discovers that there is no kick in getting a good dinner if there is no man to eat it, and the husband finds out that a house without a woman in it is the loneliest place in the world, and that he can't find a shirt, and he doesn't know any more what to do with the children than if they were some strange animals that had wandered into his yard.

There comes a heartbreaking time to practically all parents when their adolescent children are fractious and disobedient and almost impossible to live with and when they sadly say that they don't know what to do with Tom and Mary. The one sure-fire cure for the situation is to send them off to school or camps where they won't feel free to sass strangers and defy all discipline. Many parents and children are estranged for life by the fight they go through when the youngsters are making their battle for freedom and the fathers and mothers are still regarding them as babies.

But absence, like all other remedies, has to be taken judiciously and in moderation. A little of it makes the heart grow fonder. Too much of it is lethal.

"You must think bicycles grow on trees!" said Billy's father, when the young lad suddenly announced that he wanted a new bike. But although no one would expect such a thing . . . the bicycle grew on Farmer Brown's apple tree, anyway!

In quite a magic kind of way, many other strange things grew on those apple trees, too. It all started when the barrels or crates of apples were sent across the sea to London, where everyone was hungry for Canadian apples. The English people were glad to get our apples, and to pay for them they shipped us some fine china dinnerware.

Billy's mother was delighted to see her favourite china again . . . so one day she went to town to help Billy buy his new bicycle with the apple dollars, and there was enough money left to pay for a new set of dishes, too.

By this magic chain of exporting and importing, the English families had fresh apples, and the Canadian ladies had pretty dishes . . . and there was still enough money over to buy the bicycle that was made here in Canada. But most important of all, many jobs were created. There was a better living for the farmer, the bicycle factory mechanics, the storekeepers and many more. Everyone got something which they would have had to do without if it were not for Canadian trade abroad.

You were in this, too. For, at least 35 cents of every dollar you make comes directly or indirectly from Canadian exports and imports. Think of this again—one-third of all the money you earn comes from our trade with other countries.

What you can do to help your prosperity

1 Even if you have to wait a bit for merchandise you want, by sharing with nations overseas now you are helping to fill your own pay envelope . . . and also insuring your own job or business for future years. So be patient and wise, and help Canada take care of her customers across the sea.

2 If you help to make or produce any kind of merchandise, put your best into the work. Then Canadian goods will be asked for, and preferred, in other countries. Your sincerity will pay off in better jobs and higher wages.

Everyone who buys or sells merchandise abroad makes jobs in Canada. That is why we have a Foreign Trade Service in the Department of Trade and Commerce. It maintains able trade commissioners in 29 countries, and an experienced export and import staff at head office, to collect the most-up-to-date information on foreign markets and give practical help to every business that wishes to buy or sell in other countries.

MANUFACTURERS PLAN AHEAD!

The war was still on when the survey of the post-war spending plans of some 2,400 Canadian manufacturers was published. But, even then, they had their plans for peace.

They planned, for example, to spend about $230 millions "for additional machinery, maintenance, etc." . . . and about $95 millions "for expansion and modernization of plant and buildings" . . . in the first three years after victory. That was a collective estimate—and the majority of them were little businesses.

For more than 90 years the Bank of Toronto has participated in this type of purposeful planning by small as well as large enterprises. Credit itself is an essential form of industrial machinery. So it is that our credit plans are designed to meet the credit needs of all constructive business . . . furthering such plans as you, too, may have in mind. We cordially invite you to bring your credit needs to us.

Boy Scouts Play and Work Hard At Camp

Seventy Boy Scouts from Victoria and district are having the time of their young lives living under canvas at their 168-acre camp at Young's Lake, Sooke, donated to them last year by former Senator G. H. Barnard. A section of the camp site with bell-tent sleeping quarters and canopied kitchens is shown above. Last month 250 cubs spent 10 happy days at the camp. The scouts there now are the last group of boys to go to camp this summer. Up at 7 in the morning and in bed by 9 and 10 at night, the scouts take turns in cooking the meals, rustling fire wood, and working on the rock-pile (clearing up the camp site). When they are not swimming and hiking there are instruction periods for them in woodcraft, rope work, first aid and general methods of taking care of themselves in the woods. Discipline is strict and the youngsters thrive on it.

B.C. Sikh Treatment May Fix India Policy

MONTREAL (CP).—Canada's treatment of one of its smallest minorities, the approximately 1,200 Hindus who for the most part work in the lumber industry of British Columbia, may have a decisive effect on the decision of India whether to remain in the British Commonwealth of Nations, Dr. D. P. Pandia, a traveling representative of the Indian National Congress Party, headed by Pandit Nehru and Mahatma Gandhi, said in an interview here Monday.

Dr. Pandia's mission is to keep contact with and help solve the problems of Indian minority groups throughout the world.

He said one of the strongest arguments used by Indian nationalists, who wanted India's complete withdrawal from the Commonwealth, was India's treatment of the Indian nationals who are heavily discriminated against in the matter of immigration and citizenship in other countries of the Commonwealth.

"What is the use of India remaining a member of the Commonwealth," asked Dr. Pandia, "if we are not given the privileges of citizenship. If we are put in the same category as Japanese and Chinese people who are not even British subjects." Immediate action by Canada to give full citizenship to its Hindu (Sikh) minority and to give India at least an immigration quota, as the United States has done, would have a profound effect on Indian public opinion.

French Actor Coming To Little Centre

Jean Frere, noted French actor, will give a performance at the Little Centre next Tuesday to raise funds for the Victoria art gallery. He has won wide acclaim for his Parisian character sketches.

Other attractions coming to the Little Centre include an exhibition of 60 paintings by John de Lisle Parker, Vancouver artist, and a non-competitive exhibition of the works of Vancouver Island artists.

Four oils and 56 water colors are included in the de Lisle Parker show which will run from Aug. 20 to Aug. 31. His scenes range from Oak Bay and the Forbidden Plateau to Paris and Manila and cover a wide range of subjects.

Entries will be accepted from Vancouver Island artists for the non-jury exhibition which will run from Sept. 3 to 15. Each artist must pay an entry fee of one dollar and may send in two paintings only. Paintings may be oil or water colors, pastels, or black and white. Deadline for delivery is 5 p.m., Aug. 31.

Island artists should write to the Little Centre secretary, 965 Yates Street, for information. Now on display are etchings

New Type Boat For Tuna Fishing

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP).—The Paul-D, a new-type tuna boat, was launched here Monday night. The 42-foot craft is believed the first of its type built in Canada.

Owner Paul Sherman explained that the boat, radical in design, features bait tanks below decks, overcoming the complaint of west coast fishermen that above-decks tanks make their boats too heavy.

Last spring, insurance companies here required a sea-worthy test before underwriting boats with the bait tanks on deck.

In addition to the extra ballast provided by the new arrangement, the wheelhouse of the cabin has been kept to a minimum height for comfort, cutting down wind resistance and leaving ample room below the waterline.

The Paul-D also features three-to-one reduction gears, radio telephone and a direction finder.

Eisenhower Medalist In Seniors' Tourney

Medalist honors in the 18-hole qualifying round of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association tournament at Oak Bay yesterday went to E. N. Eisenhower of Tacoma with a four over par 73. Brother of the famous "Ike" was out in 37, four over perfect figures, and back in 36, even par. By his victory Eisenhower took possession of the Joshua Green Lipton trophy.

Runner-up honors went to R. E. Campbell, Seattle veteran, with a 74. Defending champion Ralph Whaley, winner of both the grand championship and the medal the two previous years, qualified for the title flight with a 77. Scores of 84 or better were necessary to qualify.

Victoria placed only two in the championship, H. F. Hepburn, Oak Bay, and Frank Thomas, Colwood, holder of the Vancouver Island seniors' title. Hepburn carded an 81 while Thomas scored an 84.

Seattle entrants carried off the greatest number of berths in the title flight with five, followed by Portland with four and Tacoma with three. Of the remaining four, Victorians took two and Bellingham and Vancouver contenders one each.

Tomorrow evening the association will hold its annual meeting in the clubhouse, starting at 5, while Thursday evening the annual dinner is set for the Union Club, commencing at 7:35.

Scores of the 16 qualifiers in the championship follow:

R. E. Campbell, Seattle, 74.
H. W. Andrews, Tacoma, 76.

Good Boxla Action Looked For Tonight

Providing the weatherman co-operates boxla fans should see some rip-roaring action at Stevenson Park starting at 6:30 this evening when Jokers and Tillicums come to blows in local league play.

Jokers who were beaten by one goal in their last meeting with Tillicums and who now are in third place, four points behind Foul Bay and Tillicums, say the story is going to be different tonight.

"They've won their last game against us," say Tom Carney's laugh-making crew.

Nevertheless Tillicums after beating Jokers by one goal, continued their march towards the title by putting the fast-stepping Foul Bay boys in their place, and they don't think Jokers are going to halt their progress tonight.

Plan One Hockey Group To Control All Amateur Play

NEW YORK (AP)—Representatives of hockey governing bodies in the United States, Canada, Great Britain, France and Sweden met Monday and formulated a plan to bring all amateur hockey under a single governing body not concerned with any other sport.

Under the plan, the International Hockey Association will suggest to the Ligue Internationale de Hockey Sur Glace which meets at Zurich, Switzerland Sept. 1, that the two world organizations be merged into a single new group which would be concerned only with hockey.

"In these suggestions the position of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association as the producer of hockey players is being carefully protected," said Dr. W. G. Hardy of Edmonton, president of the International Hockey Association.

A plan also was proposed for a world championship tournament, to be held alternately in Europe and North America.

When the world meet is held in North America, the European championships would be decided in Europe and only the first and second teams would cross to play in North America.

When the world championships are held in Europe, both the C.A.H.A. and the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States would designate teams to participate across the Atlantic.

Under the merger plan, Olympic championships would be played under Canadian amateur rules, which follow those of the National Hockey League.

Second base—Alex Kampouris, Sacramento (4); Glenn Stewart, Hollywood (2); Hugh Luby, San Francisco, received eight votes, but is not eligible.

Shortstop—Bill Schuster, Los Angeles (14); Dick Lohrke, San Diego (7).

Outfielders—Lloyd Christopher, Los Angeles (15); Joyner White, Seattle (14); Harvey Storey, Portland (10); Brooks Holder, Oakland (8); Joe Marty, Sacramento (7).

Leonard, Wood On Canadian Golf Team To Make U.S. Circuit Tour

WINNIPEG (CP)—Plans to send at least four Canadian professional golfers on the United States tournament circuit are out of the formative stage and practically ready to be launched. The aim is to provide them with the opportunity of picking up vitally needed tournament experience.

Officials of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association held a meeting during their last week and decided to work out final details at their forthcoming annual meeting when the players will be selected and the decision made as to what part of their expenses will be borne by the association.

The move is something the C.P.G.A. has been attempting to St. Louis Pennant Bound?

Stan Musial's slugging spree of 12 hits in his last 14 trips, coupled with the revival of the St. Louis pitching staff, have put the cards only half a game or one percentage point, back of the National leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Important to the Cardinal pennant aspirations is the recent form of pitchers Johnny Beazley and Al Brazle, Manager Eddie Dyer has manipulated his staff all season so as to have Howie Pollet, Harry Brecheen and Murry Dickson ready for the Dodgers and the top teams, only to have Beazley and Brazle fail him in the next series.

Beazley now has two straight victories and Brazle's three-hit, 5 to 0, job on Chicago yesterday may be an indication of things to come.

The Cubs find themselves daily settling back closer and closer to the fourth-place Boston Braves.

Claude Passeau, who twisted his aching back jumping to field Marty Marion's slow bouncer in the third inning, was the loser as St. Louis came up with three runs in the inning.

DOGGERS RALLY
Brooklyn held the lead by rallying with three runs in the seventh inning for a 3 to 2 decision after New York Giant homers by Walker Cooper and ex-Dodger Jack Graham had given Ken Trinkle a 2 to 0 margin until four singles, a walk and an error by Toronto's Goody Rosen changed the picture.

Vic Lombardi recorded his ninth in a row over New York. He was lifted for a pinch hitter and Ralph Branca finished.

Cincinnati lost its seventh straight, bowing to Pittsburgh's three doubles by first baseman Bert Haas, to decision Ed Heusser.

Detroit, shaded Cleveland, 3 to 2, in 10 innings in the only American League tilt, moving to within two games of the second place New York Yankees. Al Benton, who got the verdict, and George Caster teamed up on a three-hit pitching job to defeat Joe Berry.

Musial Sets Torrid Pace
NEW YORK (AP)—Stan Musial's torrid batting pace, which added 13 points to his average and advanced the St. Louis Cardinal star from third to first place in the National League, overshadowed all other hitting feats during the week ending Sunday.

Although both Mickey Vernon of Washington and Ted Williams of Boston dropped off, they retained their respective positions in the American League race. Vernon topped the heap with a .351 average, including Sunday's games. Williams' second place .344 was eight points better than Johnny Pesky of Boston who was hitting .336.

Musial scorched past both Dixie Walker of Brooklyn and Johnny Hopp of Boston with an eight-hit day Sunday against Cincinnati. While the St. Louis outfielder was boosting his mark to

Baseball Game Draws $1,226 For Benefit

Spokane Players' Benefit Fund will be enhanced to the extent of $1,226.05 as a result of last night's exhibition game between Victoria Athletics of the Western International League and an all-star club from the city league. Over 1,600 turned out for the affair and watched the amateurs toss a real scare into the pro club, only to go down to a 5 to 4 defeat on the strength of a three-run homer by Beans Marionetti in the last of the ninth with two out.

For a benefit game it was a thriller. Determined to give everything, the amateurs missed victory by an eye-lash and turned in their best exhibition of the season. Bill Prior and Stan Curry came up with smart pitching stands and for five out of six innings blanked the A's. Jimmy Dumeh took over in the seventh and, after shutting out the pros for two frames, was nicked for the winning runs in the ninth. Walt Raimondi and Tommy Musgrave hurled for the A's.

After the A's had grabbed off a 2 to 0 lead in the first inning as Pete Hughes came up with a two-base blow neither team hit the scoreboard until the fifth when Maurice Duffy lifted the ball out of the park with one aboard to tie the score. In the seventh Jack Walker got a rousing cheer from the crowd when he lined the ball over the centerfield fence with Duffy on base to put the amateurs ahead 4 to 2.

Trying desperately to get back into the game the pros finally succeeded in pulling the decision out of the fire in the last inning. After Murphy had led off with a single, Cirmele and Cherry filed out. Hughes singled to left field and Marionetti followed with his circuit blow.

Athletics resume league play tonight against Bremerton Blue-jackets. Game time is 8 with Tony Ferrara scheduled to take the mound for the Victoria club.

Teams play a second game tomorrow evening then move to Bremerton for a five-game stand. Ninth-inning home runs by successive batters brought Bremerton a 2 to 1 victory over Vancouver in last night's lone W.I.L. clash. The win narrowed the gap between Bremerton and second-place Salem to one game.

The fourly clouds were delivered by outfielders Walt Bliss and Bill Barisoff, the first two batters in Bremerton's half of the last inning. For Barisoff, it was the 30th circuit blow of the season and places him within possible reach of the league record of 37.

Prior to the ninth, Vancouver held a 1 to 0 lead on the basis of Ray Orteig's fourth-inning home run.

Ward 6 Criticizes Dividing Line Set For Saanich

A line to divide Saanich into two municipalities with a view to amalgamating the inner section with the city which was announced Monday by the Department of Municipal Affairs, was condemned by directors of Ward Six Ratepayers' Association who met at Keating Temperance Hall last evening.

The ratepayers moved to take action against implementation of the boundary, although Reeve A. G. Lambriek said the municipal council would stand by the government's decision on the line if division of the municipality is carried out.

"We asked the government to set the line and we will abide by the line," the reeve said.

The new line which straightens out a tentative line set by the municipal council last May, was proposed by R. R. F. Sewell and H. C. Oldfield at the request of Hon. R. C. MacDonald, Minister of Municipal Affairs.

MAY TAKE ACTION
Action may be taken at a meeting of the municipal council this evening to form a committee to investigate the proposed line. This will depend on whether or not a full council is present.

Next step would be a plebiscite to determine whether urban and rural Saanich definitely want to separate. If so, amalgamation of the inner section with the city would follow according to present plans.

The new line places Wards 1, 2 and 7 in the inner section and Wards 3, 4, 5 and 6 in the rural section.

Commenting on the proposal following the protest meeting of Ward 6 ratepayers, Sydney Pickles, president of the association, said:

"Saanich ward-by-ward financial report for 1945 clearly shows that Wards 1, 2 and 7 have a combined deficit of $16,144.88."

"We are of the opinion that these wards would be placing themselves in an impossible situation if they voted for separation into a new municipality. They would not be in a position to negotiate with the city on amalgamation except on whatever terms the city might determine."

"Obviously the city would require a much larger portion of the urban area to make its inclusion in the city financially worthwhile."

"Inclusion of Ten-Mile Point and Gordon Head might make the amalgamation proposition more attractive to Victoria."

"The proposed dividing line is decidedly against Ward Six as such a division of the present municipality would jeopardize the granting of the Ward Six secession petition now before the government."

Prices Board Acts To Force Mills To Make Fruit Boxes

OTTAWA (CP) — The Prices Board said today that "in the face of threats to curtail food container production" it had been obliged to take "drastic action" Monday by appointment of a controller for lumber and lumber products in the British Columbia interior and issuance of directives to ensure capacity production of containers for the expected bumper B.C. fruit crop.

B.C. box manufacturers in the interior of B.C. were directed to operate their plants at capacity of the available labor and materials to manufacture boxes and shooks; to use all logs and lumber now on hand or acquired in the future for that purpose and to purchase additional lumber to meet all container needs if their normal stocks are inadequate to take care of crop requirements in the Okanagan area.

R. H. Livingstone of the Edmonton office of the Timber Controller, was appointed controller of lumber and lumber products, B.C. interior, and now was en route to set up headquarters at Kelowna, B.C.

This year's crop of fruit and vegetables, particularly apples, was "likely to be a record high in spite of hail storm damage reported a week ago." The strike earlier this year also had closed down most of the interior box plants with loss of production. Only a maximum effort could avert serious harvest losses for want of packages.

An order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board requiring box factories to gear their entire production to the making of containers for fruit and vegetables applies only to the interior and not to box-making plants of the coast, it was learned here today.

The directives from Ottawa prohibit the box-makers from using lumber, except by permit, for any other purpose.

The monthly meeting of the Greater Victoria Branch No. 5, Old-aged Pensioners, will be held in the First Baptist Church Hall, Quadra Street Wednesday at 2 p.m. E. Harris of Branch No. 2, New Westminster, will speak.

Bed On Sidewalk, But Not Because Of Housing Problem

Passers by on Yates Street were startled Monday night to see a young ex-airforce man, robed in blue striped pyjamas, pushing a bed, complete with bedclothes, down Yates Street from Blanshard Street. When he got to Yates and Douglas, he proceeded to unfold the bed, make it, and then crawled in and apparently went to sleep. Upon being awakened, and literally turned out on the sidewalk by a policeman, he remade his bed and went back to sleep. It was another stunt of the Youth Action Committee show in Beacon Hill Park. The young man's reward was a $15 scrip to a local photographer — and he kept the pyjamas.

Rear-Admiral Outlines Activities Of Navy Here

Rear Admiral E. R. Mainguy, O.B.E., R.C.N., commanding officer Pacific coast, today outlined future activities of his navy command here, including a northern trip of the cruiser Uganda, due at Esquimalt at 10.30 Wednesday morning from a training cruise to northern B.C.

Uganda, under command of Capt. K. Adams, Victoria, has been as far north as Prince Rupert, and is scheduled to sail again on Aug. 21 for Dutch Harbor, Kodiak, Juneau, Prince Rupert and return. She will be accompanied on part of the voyage by the destroyer Crescent which has already sailed in company with her on the present voyage.

It is expected she will carry 150 to 200 trainees aboard, making a total of 800 naval personnel sailing on the cruise. Wartime complement of the Uganda was 800. It is now approximately 600, with the trainees making up the difference.

The Crescent, under command of Lieut.-Cmdr. P. Nixon, Victoria, is scheduled to sail Monday to pick up the Governor-General, Field Marshal Alexander, and his party at Twin Island and carry them up to Prince Rupert, making a one-night call at Ocean Falls where the vice regal party will spend a short time ashore.

From Prince Rupert, the Crescent will rendezvous with the Uganda to complete the voyage with the cruiser. Already, Admiral Mainguy said, great value had been noticed in the two ships working together.

The two R.C.N. ships are due back at Esquimalt Sept. 27. The admiral knew of no new cruises planned for the cruiser, but fully expected she would make a winter trip.

The cruiser Ontario is still at Esquimalt being refitted and Admiral Mainguy saw no possibility of her leaving for the Atlantic this year. The navy is still waiting to get enough men to commission the cruiser, he said.

TWO NEW SHIPS SOON

It is hoped the destroyer Crusader at present berthed here, will be recommissioned in approximately one month. Two new ships are due at Esquimalt soon. They are the tug Clifton and the supply vessel Laymore. Sailing from the east coast, they have already passed through the Panama Canal and are now on the last leg of their voyage here.

Admiral Mainguy said the R.C.N. now had approximately 7,000 naval personnel of its 10,000 objective for peacetime. The 10,000 will be split in half, 5,000 on this coast under Admiral Mainguy, and 5,000 on the east coast, of the total strength, the admiral expected 50 per cent would be at sea all the time.

Since Nov. 1, 1945, 2,267 new entries, including present classes, have been trained on the Pacific coast. Initial training is given here at H.M.C.S. Naden, and the trainees finish their training at Comox, where H.M.C.S. Naden II has been established.

He hoped to give the trainees a short trip out to sea to acquaint them with the ocean before they got their ships, the admiral said.

He elaborated on the announcement by Vice-Admiral H. E. Reid, C.B.E., R.C.N., naval chief of staff, on his visit here in July that navy planes from the aircraft carrier Warrior would use the R.C.A.F. station at Patricia Bay as a land base.

The navy was to have a section allotted it at Patricia Bay, Admiral Mainguy said. When the carrier Warrior, which is expected here in December, came into port, the planes would fly from her to their land base at the R.C.A.F. station.

The planes would remain there, training and repairing, while the carrier was in port, and fly from the base to rejoin their ship when the Warrior sailed.

While at the land base, the navy squadrons will come under the R.C.A.F. commanding officer at Patricia Bay, with a naval officer posted there to be in direct command of the squadrons.

TO TRAIN RESERVISTS

There was no training being done at H.M.C.S. Malahat, the reserve division here, he said. At present Malahat was just a recruiting station and the navy was looking for a place to train the reservists, he added.

The admiral knew of no definite plans for changes at the Royal Roads Naval College here but said he expected a change to be made in the age and qualifications of entrants, there.

However, he added, any changes which might be made certainly would not come into effect before July, 1947, although if anything was to be done, plans would have to be completed before May when the cadets write their exams.

He hopes Moresby House, where Wrens quarters were established during the war, may be converted into a recreation centre for naval personnel. Personnel sometimes felt hemmed in at the base, he said, and a recreation centre, even if it were only a few hundred yards outside the gates, would be of benefit.

The areas closed were listed as the watersheds of the following creeks and rivers: Sheep, Erie, Lamb, Upper Kootenay, Hidden, Anderson-Five Mile, Porcupine, Duhamel-Upper Lemon, Cambridge-Tiger-Gorge-Casino, Lost-South Fork Salmo, Topping-Hanna-McNally - Murphy - Sullivan-Poupre - Blueberry, Upper Granby-Crawford and Upper St. Mary, and the area bounded by the Pend d'Oreille and Columbia Rivers and the international boundary.

Council Meets On Transport

The City Council this afternoon met to consider the terms of the draft specifications for the unified transportation system, which were presented by Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the Greater Victoria Transportation Committee.

Ald. Diggon asked that the press be excluded from the meeting because he did not consider it good policy to reveal the terms of the specifications to the public until all four municipal councils of the area had reached complete agreement on the terms.

He indicated that any changes asked by the councils would be submitted back to the committee, and that before the final draft was arrived at several meetings of the councils might have to be called.

Fred Hawes, newly-elected governor of District No. 4, Gyro International, reported at the Gyro Club Monday on the recent district convention in Tacoma, held Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Reports were given by other delegates also. Hart Henderson, president of Victoria Gyro, was appointed delegate to the Gyro International convention at Buffalo, New York, Oct. 3 to 5.

Fire Hazard Closes Several Watersheds In Nelson District

The B.C. government today clamped a closure on several areas in the Nelson district where 28 fires were reported burning Monday night, one of them 1,500 acres in extent which is being fought by 250 fire-fighters.

Fires in the Vancouver forest district which includes Vancouver Island were reported controlled. The Wolf Lake blaze in the Goldstream area has been halted at 55 acres and the crew reduced to six men who are petting the fire area. A fire which broke out near Shawinigan Lake Monday afternoon has been halted at half an acre. Another fire was reported at Forward Bay on Cracroft Island near Alert Bay.

In the Nelson district 450 men are fighting forest fires. The worst blaze, covering 1,500 acres, is near Koch Creek. It has not yet been controlled.

Hazard in the Nelson district was described at B.C. Forest Service headquarters as high, but forest protection officers held out hope predicted cooler weather would come to the aid of the fire-fighters.

The closure order was signed by Premier John Hart, acting Minister of Lands and Forests in the absence of Hon. E. T. Kennedy. It is made under Section 119 of the Forest Act and prohibits persons from entering the areas for "traveling, camping, fishing, hunting, recreation, berry-picking, prospecting for minerals and for any other like purposes," except with a written permit from the forest branch.

The areas closed were listed as the watersheds of the following creeks and rivers: Sheep, Erie, Lamb, Upper Kootenay, Hidden, Anderson-Five Mile, Porcupine, Duhamel-Upper Lemon, Cambridge-Tiger-Gorge-Casino, Lost-South Fork Salmo, Topping-Hanna-McNally - Murphy - Sullivan-Poupre - Blueberry, Upper Granby-Crawford and Upper St. Mary, and the area bounded by the Pend d'Oreille and Columbia Rivers and the international boundary.

The weather forecast for today predicted general cloudiness in the southern part of the province.

In the Prince Rupert forest district the hazard was reported low, but in Kamloops forest district 44 fires were reported burning Monday night with conditions fairly hazardous.

Rev. John McDowell Kerr, who retired 30 years ago after active ministry in the Methodist and United Churches, died recently at Bracebridge, Ont., in his 92nd year. Make Changes In Arena Structure

An indication that the final three sections of the Arena would be ready for tender within the month was given today by Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the arena committee, following a meeting today, attended by C. T. Hamilton, consulting engineer and the Victoria architects.

Several minor structural changes were made in the building plans, Ald. Dewar said, including a change in the east side exits. Other changes were in the location of the refrigeration plant and machinery.

Everything is going smoothly on the arena construction, Ald. Dewar said, and he anticipated that the call for further tenders for the roof structure, the interior and the refrigeration, heating and lighting plants would be made soon.

Mayor Percy George today said he would endeavor to attend the closing field day of the city playgrounds which is being staged at Macdonald Park Wednesday afternoon. An extensive program of 29 events will be presented.

Canada Must Have National Theatre, Say Speakers At Drama Conference

Monday afternoon session of the Pacific Drama Conference was largely attended and brought forth much interesting information on various aspects of the theatre. E. G. Smith, C.D.A., was in the chair.

An illustrated talk on the model theatre was given by Ross A. Lort. He demonstrated with small-scale unit scenery and lighting, showing a variety of effects through the use of light on grey scenery.

Make-up and voice create the first impressions the audience receives on the rise of the curtain, said Maj. M. J. Evans, and the impression made was carried throughout the whole play. Make-up must give a clear-cut picture in every part of the theatre. He spoke of the importance of contrasting high lights and shadows, to bring out desired features, remarking that a great many amateurs made the mistake of over emphasis, and so lost reality of character.

In discussing the voice, Maj. Evans felt that the human instrument was sadly neglected in ordinary life. No amount of shouting on the stage would overcome wrong placing and breathing. He explained the proper and corrective exercises.

NATIONAL THEATRE

Mrs. J. Harry Smith of Westmount, Que., spoke of the need of a national theatre in Canada. She believes that a little theatre was the only constructive move in this direction.

"We must have a national theatre," Mrs. Smith told her audience, "to absorb the actors from little theatre and other groups, who are anxious to follow the stage as a career."

The little theatre commenced in France in 1884, with the idea of putting on new plays, such as Ibsen's, which the old theatres refused to produce. The whole idea of little theatre, was to give a good performance, not to educate. Good finished plays, well done, must be the objective.

Giving a history of amateur and professional theatre in Canada, Arthur Penny, editor of the Quebec Chronicle, said only in British Columbia had community drama been organized to any extent. He felt that a great gap existed where the movies had shouldered aside the legitimate stage, and that professional and repertory theatre must grow to fill it. The standard of stage performances was low, Mr. Penny said, but even at this, the crowds that arrived for a legitimate show, prove the desire for theatre on the part of the Canadian public.

British Columbia was to be congratulated on the organization of drama in schools, the best in Canada today. In other parts of Canada extra-curricular activity was not welcomed by over-worked teachers.

Dorothy Davies spoke concerning the difficulties and experiences of the rural adjudicator. She had found the enthusiasm remarkable. A great deal of hard work was done by the teachers and the whole thing became a community affair. These small festivals were almost always financially successful. It had been found that studies and school-work improve by the taking up of drama, Miss Davies stated.

Clara S. Richter of New York City, spoke as a lover of drama. She felt that drama was a great factor in international understanding. Much could be learned about other peoples of the world from the stage, as their drama was the most vivid expression of most national groups.

WANT PLAYS
"Do we want plays?" asked Archie MacCorkindale of CBC, and answered himself with an emphatic, "We do!" CBC received a lot of plays but very few were usable, he said. A radio play must have a story to tell, he stated. Tricks, music, sound effects were very nice, but there must be a story. He deplored the fact that so few people write about Canada, when there was a great deal of colorful material and so many problems in this country, why write about a New York night club?

Delegates to the conference were entertained Monday evening, with a performance of "Blithe Spirit" at the Victoria Little Theatre.

Indian Woman Drowns
PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP) — Mrs. Leo Harris, Indian woman of Sidney, Vancouver Island, was drowned Sunday afternoon at Carlisle cannery on the Skeena River.

She fell into the river from a fishing boat, was pulled out of the water quickly, but failed to recover after two hours of artificial respiration, Coroner M. M. Stephens left Monday to investigate. An inquest will be held.

Russian Opposition Sidetracks Irish Bid For U.N. Membership

NEW YORK (AP)—The applications of Ireland and Trans-Jordan for membership in the United Nations were sidetracked today by firm Russian opposition.

As a result of Monday's meeting of the Security Council's 11-power membership committee only Afghanistan was tentatively given a clean bill out of the first five of nine applications under consideration. The committee had morning and afternoon meetings scheduled for today.

Some quibbling may remain over Afghanistan's bid, since Paul Hasluck, Australian delegate, tempered his approval with a mild reservation. The World Jewish Congress, a non-government agency, also volunteered a memorandum charging the Kabul government was exercising a "virtual reign of terror" over 5,000 Jews said to be living in Afghanistan.

The Jewish complaint will be acknowledged and filed away for any future reference. Afghanistan was supported by the United States and unanimously approved for membership, pending a final vote, before the Jewish protest gained general circulation.

CONTOVERSY SHAPES UP

A controversy in the committee shaped up over the Russian-supported applications of the Albanian and Mongolian Peoples' Republics, which have been tabled during the committee's quest for further information on them, and the bids from Trans-Jordan and Ireland, which have the prime sponsorship of the United Kingdom—and now the opposition of Russia.

Ireland's bid was approved by all committeemen except those of Russia and Poland. Trans-Jordan's was strongly supported by Britain and approved subject to a formal reservation by Egypt but met with reservations by the United States, Australia and Poland.

Soviet representative Andrei N. Kraslinkov told the committee that Russia had no diplomatic relations with either Ireland or Trans-Jordan and would vote against their admission; but he left a loophole by reserving the right to review their applications later.

Seamen To Strike If Conference Now In Progress Fails

TORONTO (CP)—Gerald McManus, general secretary of the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.), said Monday night that unless negotiations started today with inland shipping companies lead to a new union contract, the C.S.U. will call a strike.

Earlier today Mr. McManus charged that the companies had refused to bargain in good faith toward a new contract. He said that was a contravention of the terms of the government order-in-council which ended a four-week C.S.U. strike last June 21 and put all lake shipping under the control of Capt. E. S. Brand. "We feel that we are sitting down for the last time to attempt to negotiate an agreement," said Mr. McManus of the meeting planned for today.

"We are prepared now as in the past to give complete cooperation to Mr. Justice Richards (Government-appointed commissioner), to bring about a friendly settlement of the dispute.

"However, we must realize a settlement in the next day or two or we have no alternative but to call a strike."

"We don't want a strike, we have done everything to avoid a strike, but if we strike this time we will strike for a final settlement of all grievances, and will keep the ships tied up until the whole question of hours of work, working conditions and our wage policy is fully enforced."
